THE NEW YORKS AT THE MERCY OF THE BOSTONS' PITCHER.

Ruste Does Pinely, Too, but His Comrades Are Easy Victims-The Brooklyns Lone a Game at Baltimore-Pittsburgh Beats Cincinnatiand Leads the Race-Washington, Chiengo, and Cleveland Atso Win,

The New Yorks were beaten again yesterday ecause they couldn't hit the pitching of Stivetta of the Bostons. They were so weak with the stick that 6,000 cranks went home in disgust, The Baltimores took the Brooklyns into camp in an interesting game, while the Washingtons, by clever playing, put the Philadelphias in the own again. By defeating the Cincinnatis, Pittsburgh took first place. Chicago beat Louis ville with case, and the Clevelands won their first game of the season, Von der Ahe's men falling before them. The results:

a ball team cannot make more than two safe hits in nine innings it seldom happens that a victory can be recorded. Consequently, when the New Yorks didn't do any better with Boston's pitcher, Stivetts, yesterday, it is easy to tell the tale of woe. As usual when the New Yorks are let down with a few hits, one hears that they are "weak batters" and that they not the case yesterday. The local players weren't blind and could not be accused of stupidity, but, on the contrary, they tried to hit the ball with all their might. Yet the hits that have generally been made in times past off Catapult Stivetts were not forthcoming, and it was simply because the big fellow pitched one of the greatest games of his career.

Fine pitching generally hinges on superb fielding, but the work of the Bostonian was handi-capped in this respect, for the ex-champions made Bloomingdale errors until Frank Selec mosped his noble brow. But, in spite of an avalanche of muffs and fumbles all round him stivetts kept shooting the ball over the plate with such terrific speed and rigrag curves that he New York Stude, but the Bostons fielded perfectly, Davis's men would have supped on a dish of succulent goose eggs, and they can consider themselves lucky that they dish thave contested themselves lucky that they dish thave the contested themselves lucky that they dish that the latter than the latter than the Beanceters, they made their few hits count, and, taking advantage of a few situs, so like the plant of the latter than the latter of the latter than the latter played a clouds and the latter was partial excuse for his three misplays, but both the latter of excitement. pretty bunt, but was forced by Burke, who was left.

The Bostons added two runs to their string in the fifth after two men were out. McCarthy got a base on balls, took third on Collins's hot baser past Dovle, and both scored on Nash's corking three-bagger to the ropes in left centre. Meanwhile the New Yorks were pegging away unsuccessfully until the seventh, when Doyle was safe on Tucker's muff of Lowe's quick throw at short range, and Tiernan's fly was muffed by Long, as he ran into McCarthy. Stafford got a base on balls by good waiting, but Burke, with the corners covered, popped a fly to Nash, and Farrell forced Stafford at second, which allowed Doyle to score. Then, with two men on bases, Rusie fanned the air.

In the eighth Fuller's high fly was muffed by Tucker and Van Haltren secured a base on balls. Then Davis sent both in with the second hit off Stivetta, a drive to right that yielded two bases. There was nobody out, but the next three basemen were easy and the last chance was gone.

BALTIMORE, 3: BROOKLYN, 1.

BALTIMORE, Md., April 24.—Hemming pitched his first game for Baltimore to-day, and gave a midsummer exhibition of the twirler's art. He not only prevented Brooklyn from scoring more than once, but he practically won the game by his own batting. Gumbert was not much less effective than the Baltimorean. In only one inning did he permit three hits to come together, and as the last happened to be a triple, enough runs were scored them and there to win the game. The fielding on both sides was extra fine. Though five errors are charged, only one of them cost a run, but did not affect the result. It was in the third inning that Hemming led off with a double. McGraw followed with a slow one along the third base line. It was palpably a hit, but Shoch foolishly tried to catch the runser and three wild, Hemming scoring on the play.

In the fifth Hemming again started with a bit, but Shoch foolishly tried to catch the runher and threw wild, Hemming scoring on the play.

In the fifth Hemming again started with a single and McGraw followed suit. Keeler, after an unsuccessful attempt to bunt, hit a slow grounder to !May, forcing McGraw. Kelley waited patienty for a straight one, which he lined to the right field fence for three bases, sending Hemming and Keeler scross the plate with what proved to be the winning runs. The Brooklyns had chances in the second and third nuings to score, but the timely hit was wanting. In the second they had three on the bases with only one out, but Grim fouled out to Robinson, and Gumbert placed a lize hit in Jennings's hands. In the third a base on balls, a hit, and a sacrifice put men on second and third, but Burns and Tredway knocked up pop flies to the infield. They earned their only run in the sixth, when, after two were out, Shoch hit for two bases and scored on Corcoran's singie. The fielding on both sides was sharp. The best work was done by Jennings and Brouthers, while Hemming easily carried off the batting honors, making a single and two doubles out of three times at the bat. The score:

stockholders of the Virginia Jockey Club decided at a meeting held to-day to continue the meeting at St. Asaph after May 14 under the auspices of the Western Turf Congress, which permits the operation of a foreign book and one, two, three betting. It is understood that Mesers, Kirk and McIntyre are opposed to this change, but it will be made, nevertheless, and Washington will be asked to support two race meetings this summer, an experiment which will undoubtedly result most disastrously if the Percy-Gray measure becomes a law in New York State. WASHINGTON, April 24.-President N. E. Young has issued the following card in relation to the resignation of Umpire Lynch and the appointment of Umpire Long of the New England League as his successor:

To the Baseball Public:
There seems to be a very mistaken impression in relation to the resignation of Mr. Lynch as a League umpiration to the resignation of Mr. Lynch as a League umpiration to the resignation of Mr. Lynch as a League umpiration to the resignation of Mr. Lynch as a League umpiration to the resignation of Mr. Lynch and every other League umpire, is well aware of the fact that his assignments are confidential. No one but Mr. Lynch and myself knew whether he was to umpire three, six, or nine times in New York. Last Saturday night I received a fong telegram from Mr. Freedman requesting me to remove Lynch from New York and send another umpire to umpire Monday's game. This I positively decimed to do, and in my reply to Mr. Freedman i sustained Mr. Lynch and expressed the utmost confidence in his ability and integrity. I sho told Mr. Freedman that, in view of his large financial interests, I couldn't for him a greater wrome that the view of the large financial interests, I couldn't for him a greater wrome that the view of the large financial interests, I couldn't for him a greater wrome that the view of the large financial interests, I couldn't for him a greater wrome to the resident opinion that the life of the game depended upon sustaining the umpires in enforcing the rules and laws which have received it in to unanimous approval of every League club.

Certainly Mr. Lynch could not have asked for any stronger approval or endorsement from he than my stronger approval or endorsement from he than he had received at the vindicated by the him before he had completed his series. On Monday i wrote him to go to institute the windicated by romaining in New York for the balance of the week. I thoug

Baseball-To-day-Every Bay Hereafter

CONGRESS AFTER MAY 14.

The racing to-day was very high class, that good three-year-old filly Owiet, owned by the Messrs. Morris, winning the Fairfax Stakes at seven furlongs in the very fast time of 1:28. Tinge was the favorite in this race at ever money and made the running at a clipping pace, Owlet leading the others, and Paladin the most prominent of the ruck. Rounding the upper turn Littlefield let Owlet go up to Tinge's quarter, and walting until well straightened out made his effort just above the furlong pole. The filly responded right gallantly to his calls, and, catching Tinge a hundred yards from the wire, won a grand right gallantly to his calls, and, catching Tinge a hundred yards from the wire, won a grand race by a neck. Paladin was third, two lengths away. The winner will puzzle most of the coits with weights up at a mile or over.

Wheeler, whose performance, when ridden by Reiff, would not call for anybody betting much money on him, was the good thing for the opening race at five furlongs, although Mabel Glenn and Foundling went at a shorter price in the betting. Doggett, instead of Reiff, had the mount, and, riding a patient race, the big chestnut horse passed Mabel Glenn in the homestretch and won cleverly. Mabel Glenn was second and Cuckoo third. Finneran pulled La Sotta up at the start after being warned, and was suspended for a week.

Fourteen two-year-olds made a great dash at half a mile, Viceregal going to the post awarm favorite. The race was a good one, with Bandala, at 10 to 1, the winner by a nose from Heretic. Viceregal was a good fourth. He was afterward sold to F. J. Smith of Canada. Mr. Smith also bough Hernia from R. J. Wallen.

Little Matt was deservedly the tavorite for the dash at a mile and won cleverly in 1:32%, Kilkenny in a drive beat Solitaire for second money. Ben Lomond opened at 7 to 5, and went up to 20 to 1 in the fifth race at six and a half furlongs. Owner McCafferty had the mount, and he beat the four-year-old at the post and broke him off for a furiong. Coming back to the post he went at him again and when the field moved away to a pretty break, with Ben Lomond next the rail, he pulled him up and was left standing. A lot of money was bet on Hamme and King Gold, and they had the race between them, the Blemton representative drawing away from his opponent three furlongs from home. between them, the Blemton representative drawing away from his opponent three furlongs Lebandy's Royal Favour, three years, and Kriskeonnel, At the mile post Mogul took a slight lead of Bard of Avon, and was followed by Kirkeonnel and Fliepa. Rounding the corner Mogul gave way to Kirkeonnel, Hard of Avon, and Reminder, The latter, after crossing the road, pulled in front and cleverly finished half a length ahead of Stonemarket, who was four lengths ahead of Fish Car. Time, 2:10 4-6. The post olds were 2 to 1 against Reminder, 20 to 1 each against Egerton, 14 to 1 against Kirk-connel, 17 to 1 against Fiepa and None the Wiser, 12 to 1 against Bushey Fark and Sancho Panza, 33 to 1 each against Bushey Fark and Sancho Panza, 33 to 1 each against Clwyd, The Bush, Bard of Avon, and Middleham, and 50 to 1 each against Ella Tweed, Mogul, and Royal Favour.

The Hyde Park Plate of 500 sovereigns, for two-year-olds, five furlones, was won by Mr. Fairles's Radiata. Lord Houghton's Eau d'Or and Mr. E. Weever's Miss Archer ran a dead heat for second place.

May Race at Monmonth Park.

FREEHOLD, N. J., April 24.-Another attempt s to be made this summer to establish racing in the State of New Jersey. The Monmouth Park Association will hold a race meeting of twelve days some time in August, if reports be true, which will be a novelty in New Jersey, as it is expected to have the races without the usual auxiliary of bookmaking. It's said that the members of the association are now soliciting subscriptions from the hotel men of Long Branch to assist in making purses of sufficient size to attract the best class of horses in America.
